INTEGRITY INSURANCE'S FINANCIAL STRENGTH REAFFIRMED BY A.M. BEST

APPLETON, WI (April 19, 2019) — Integrity Insurance and partner Grange Insurance “continue to be a financially strong and stable company,” according to A.M. Best, a global credit rating agency that specializes in the insurance industry.

A.M. Best reaffirmed Integrity's financial strength rating (FSR) of “A” (Excellent) with a stable outlook for all of its P&C companies. The FSR is the most important component of A.M. Best's rating because it indicates a company's ability to pay its policyholders' claims.

In addition, our Issuer Credit Rating (ICR) remains an “A+” (Excellent) with a stable outlook. This rating indicates that we have an excellent ability to meet ongoing senior financial obligations and places Integrity among a top tier of insurance companies nationally.

“Our financial strength demonstrates our steadfast commitment to ensure our stability to uphold the promises we make to customers every day,” said President Jill Wagner Kelly. “It also validates our operational performance and communicates to agency partners our strong and lasting commitment in the marketplace.”

In its review, A.M. Best noted Integrity and Grange's strong balance sheet and dedicated enterprise risk management team as contributing factors to the company's stable outlook.

Integrity has a long-standing “A” financial strength rating from A.M. Best, and financial strength is a critical consideration when it comes to purchasing insurance.
